SPORTS

HIGH SCHOOL AND SAINTS PLAY TIE

What had promised and undoubtedly would have been a most exciting game of baseball between the St. Louis and High School teams was broken off yesterday afternoon by rain. The score at the end of the fifth innings was tied at 2 to 2, giving some idea of the warm time that had been going on. It will be necessary to play on the tie later along in the interscholastic season.

There was quite a large crowd of friends of both sides present and all seemed to enjoy the sport while it lasted. The Punahou naturally rooted for the St. Louis team, for had the latter won it would have improved the chances of the collegers for the pennant. When the rain came on the crowd had to break for shelter, there being nothing save the trees on the field.

In the first two innings and half of the third no scores were made by either side, and the playing was as neat as anyone could desire. In the second half of the third, however, heavy batting by the High Schoolers and bulky playing by the St. Louis twirlers gave the former two runs. In the fourth there were no runs, but in the fifth the performance of the third inning was repeated, the sides, however, being reversed.

The following was the score as long as it lasted:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
St. Louis.....	0	0	0	2	*	*	*	*	2
High School.....	0	0	2	0	*	*	*	*	2

DICK REUTER TO JOIN SEATTLES

Dick Reuter, the Honolulu baseball pitcher who went to California early in the season and failed to make good, has been heard from. He is out of the team with which he had signed, and is now under engagement to play with the Seattles. As there will be important doings in the line of baseball up that way during the summer, the new berth is as important as the old.

Reading between the lines of all that has been written by both sides in the Reuter affair, it is plain that the Honolulu man did not play the ball over there that was his own in Honolulu. The chilly, foggy climate was against him, and he was never in the best of physical trim. Then, again, he found himself wedged in between combinations that were at war, and their battles were fought over his shoulders. From the start the situation was discouraging, and it failed to improve.

Whether his resignation was offered or requested is not stated; but it was probably a little of both. The trouble had reached a point where the Honolulu man could not retain his dignity and remain in the box for the team with which he had signed.

THE KAPIOLANI'S ADJUST TROUBLE

There was a largely attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Kapiolani Baseball League at the residence of John Silva last evening, at which numerous items of business were straightened out. The lengthiest discussion was on the status of Antonio Medeiros, pitcher, who had signed with both the All Star and Reach teams.

When this matter was sifted to the bottom, it was found that the double signing was the result of a mistake for which Medeiros was not altogether to be blamed. After amending the by-laws to make the action legal, Medeiros was released from both teams and then allowed to sign over with the Reach nine. This arrangement seemed to be satisfactory all around, although it was admitted that the precedent was a bad one.

Next Sunday's games in the Kapiolani park will be as follows: Reach vs. All Stars, at 1:30; All Hawaii vs. Tokiwa, at 2:30.

GETTING READY FOR TOURNAMENT

Drawings for the golf teams to play in the married vs. single men's contest at the Country Club Saturday afternoon—will be made tomorrow afternoon. Most of the best players in the city will take part. The crowd will begin to assemble on the grounds at 1 p. m. and playing will begin as soon thereafter as the "experts" are assembled.

HORSEMEN DEFEAT FORT SHAFTER

The baseball game in the military league series, played at Schofield Barracks, Leilehua, yesterday afternoon, resulted in victory of the Fifth Cavalry team over the Twentieth Infantry by a score of 5 to 3. The game was a rattling good one all the way through. The Fort Shafter team, together with a number of officers, ladies, "rooters," and a few town people, reached the cavalry camp something after 10 a. m. Playing began at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. It being felt that the Fort Shafter team was the weaker, Butler, the first pitcher of the cavalry outfit, was not put in the box, Bell pitching the entire game. Boloun pitched for the Infantrymen.

The game was notable for tight playing, the fielding being about the best yet put up by the country teams. The lineup of the teams was as follows: Fort Shafter—McCall, 2b; Moran, rf; Lemm, ss; Bateman, c; Golgol, cf; Ellis lf; Oakley, 1b; Durant, 3b; Boloun, p. Substitute, Ramsey.

Fifth Cavalry—Shepherd, 1b; Grouniger, 3b; Walters, ss; Hanson, cf; Bell, p; Bates, 2b; Harley, c; Harris, rf; Neiss, lf. The game next Sunday afternoon will be at Aala park and between the National Guard and Marine teams. It was at first intended to have this contest at the league grounds, but the Marines objected to going out there. As these two teams have shown themselves to be the strongest in the League, and pretty evenly matched, an excellent game of ball may be looked for.

PETRIE TO EXTEND TOUR TO EUROPE

President Lester Petrie, of the Healan Boat Club, who leaves by the Hiloian for the east, will make a more extended tour than had been supposed. He will not only "do" the big cities of the United States but will go across to England, France and other countries of Europe. He is taking the summer for his travels largely for the purpose of witnessing big sports in the great centers. For instance, he expects to be present at the Yale-Harvard championship shell race about July 1, and will see other big boating events in America.

He will strike England at the best of the Derby season, and it will be the race track for awhile. It is also the boat racing season in the United Kingdom, and he will take in the best of it.

This will be Mr. Petrie's first trip abroad in seven years, and on that occasion he limited his travels to California. He will be away about four months.

CHANGE IN N. G. H. SHOOTING RANGE

Change in shooting range. The Bishop Estate having found it necessary to take back a large portion of the land in Kakaako used by the National Guard for shooting range purposes, the local soldiers will find it necessary to seek another place for long distance practice. Only the two hundred yards range at Kakaako can hereafter be used, thus shutting off practice at 300, 500, 800 or 1000 yards, as may be required. In the present competition for the pick of men to participate in the national shoot this summer, it has been found necessary to use the range at Fort Shafter for long distance firing.

Major Riley, who is in charge of the competitive shoot, had thirty-five men out last Sunday, and some very satisfactory scores were made. Out of the number at practice, eighteen will be passed to make up the team for Camp Perry. Another shoot in the competitive series will be held at the same place next Sunday.

social functions ever pulled off by the club. There will be about seventy-five members and invited guests present.

PREPARING FOR MEN'S DOUBLES

Entries for the men's doubles in the Beretania Tennis club's tournament will close with Ray B. Rietow, Judd building, at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The entries so far are: A. L. Castle and Captain Low, Allan Lowrey and E. S. Gee, and A. R. Cunha and W. L. Warren. These are all strong combinations, the last being the top-notchers in the recent singles tournament.

These contests are preliminary to the islands tournament, which will take place in August. The prizes are two cups put up by C. G. Bockus and A. L. Castle, respectively.

Playing in the men's doubles will begin on the Beretania courts at 4 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

MOTORCYCLE RUN AROUND ISLAND

A motorcycle leader has suggested an endurance race around the island of Oahu, which he thinks would prove interesting in that it would be a test of both machines and men. His idea would be to have about four stations, one being the starting point at Honolulu, one at Ewa, one at Haleiwa and one in the Koolaus, the machines to play for speed between these stops.

Such a race would surely be a fine test of machines, the tire and engine trouble clearly proving the staying qualities as to each make. And that is the principal thing to be proved in any motorcycle event.

This proposal of a round the island race has been put up to several of the cyclists and they are quite enthusiastic about it. The motorcycle agencies are also anxious for such a trial.

GUN CLUB SHOOT RESULTS IN TIE

A surprise was sprung in the fifth trophy shoot of the Hawaiian Gun Club yesterday afternoon when Kirk B. Porter, who already had two legs on the prize and was expected to win, fell down. He had been unwell during the day and was unable in the pinch to score with the high bunch. J. W. Harvey was the final winner, which makes him tie with Porter in the competition.

The first results were: E. I. Spalding breaking 18 out of 24; I. Spalding, 13 out of 20, and J. W. Harvey, 18 out of 20. This was a tie between Harvey and I. Spalding. In the shoot off Harvey broke 10 out of 14, I. Spalding, 9 out of 10 and E. I. Spalding 9 out of 12.

This is the second time Harvey has won, and the rub will come between him and Porter next Wednesday afternoon.

The new Leggett trap for shooting will arrive on the Alameda and will be installed for the semi-annual shoot, which will take place the first week in June.

POLOISTS MAKE EXCELLENT START

Nine or ten members of the polo club met at the Pacific club last evening and talked over business in connection with the approaching season. Shingle, Potter, Judd, Dillingham and other prominent players being absent, nothing of importance was done. Most encouraging reports were received from every quarter, however, and the prospects certainly look bright for the greatest season the poloists have ever had.

It was decided to begin practice on the Moanalua field next Saturday afternoon, teams to be selected from members of the club. These practice matches will thereafter be kept up regularly until the season opens.

SPORTDRIFT

A business meeting of the Riverside League will be held in the office of Charles F. Chillingworth at 7:30 this evening.

Attention is again called to the meeting of the C. A. C. at the Chinese Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening. This meeting will be of importance as baseball and other business will be dealt with.

The baseball team of B. F. Ehlers & Company, which will play the War, Nichols Company team at 9 o'clock next Sunday morning, has elected Carl Du Roi as its captain.

At a conference between committee-men and members last evening it was decided to have the Diamond Head Athletic club's dance at the Young hotel on the evening of June 5. Edwin Fernandez was appointed a committee to see the hotel people and arrange for the affair. The dance will be of the invitational kind.

Three new members were taken into the Healan Boat Club at the meeting of directors held last evening. This was the only business transacted at the meeting, the remainder of the time being taken up with the "farewell" of President Petrie, who leaves in a few days for a trip half around the world.

Do not delay paying your taxes, the ten per cent penalty goes on next Sunday morning.

WOOLLEY TELLS HIS PLAN OF WORK

PROHIBITION LEADER AND HEAD OF ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE OUTLINES CAMPAIGN IN THE LOCAL FIELD—NO LIQUOR NEAR THE ARMY POSTS—REDUCTION IN NUMBER OF HONOLULU SALOONS, LOOK OUT FOR IMPURE LIQUOR.

In the current issue of the Friend Hon. John G. Woolley, head of the Anti-Saloon League, outlines what he considers should be the policy of the league and supporters as to the liquor traffic. Generally speaking, he wants to cause a reduction in the number of saloons, and he proposes the following lines of effort:

No renewal ought to be granted to one who has violated the conditions of the license that he has, or given any unusual trouble to the police, or even come under general suspicion as to the character of his place.

No license ought to be granted, or renewed, for a saloon, or wholesale liquor store, in close proximity to a military camp or reservation. A man holding a wholesale license was caught recently with a wagon load of bottled liquors supplying enlisted men, on the Leilehua reservation. He was held in camp until he could be delivered with the goods on him, into the hands of an officer. If what he was doing was a genuine delivery of liquors ordered from him, he ought nevertheless to lose his license the coming year. Or, if it was a fake delivery he should be retired summarily from the list of eligibles.

It is the law of Congress and the policy of the officer in command to permit no beer or liquors to be sold in camp. The War Department, and the Navy Department also, are doing their best to protect the camps, on the outside as well. Into that effort the Commission ought to go heartily and loyally. This country must have sober soldiers and sailors. Life in camp is monotonous and in a measure idle; the men are cut off from nearly all the influences that tend to make it easy for civilians to abstain. It ought to be axiomatic in the Commission that no countenance will be given, nor any mercy shown, to violators of the spirit of the law protecting soldiers and sailors from the most common and most dangerous temptation that besets them.

If the commission believes that anti-saloon sentiment has progressed during the year, the number of licenses should be reduced accordingly, even without any charges being brought against the present holders. A reduction of 25 per cent in Honolulu would seem not unreasonable.

It is to be hoped that the commissioners will rise superior to the "blind pig" bugaboo. Illicit dealing should be fought of course; it has been faithfully and efficiently fought in Oahu up to this time. But wherever there are licensed liquor houses, unlicensed sales will flourish. There is abundant evidence of the fact, that prohibitory areas support fewer "blind pigs" than those that issue licenses. There is only one dam that drops that litter, in Hawaii, and that in polite society avoids the unpleasant sound reference by calling itself a liquor store.

All Sunday selling should be cut out, save only at hotels, with bona fide meals, and market places should be protected by a wide belt of dry contiguous territory; and as to this, wholesale and retail places are equally objectionable. Restaurant licenses should rigorously exclude sales without meals or with fake meals; and the usual sandwich farce should mean the prompt withdrawal of a license. Every licensee should be prohibited to sell on the afternoon of pay day, on penalty of losing his license, and the sale to any known minor, posted persons or person visibly drunk should mean immediate cancellation of the license. The sale to illicit dealers knowingly or under circumstances of strong suspicion, should forfeit any wholesale license.

Immediate attention should be paid to the character of liquors sold. There are some "blends" on sale in this market, one drink of which would fetch a war whoop from the steam dredge in the bay. Wholesale licensees ought to be made to conform to the federal pure food law and in addition be forbidden to indulge in "blends" of any kind.

The fact that a licensee has money invested in his place is a tender point with business men; but it ought to weigh absolutely nothing as against a good reason for withholding or cancelling the license. The investor in a license knows what he is buying—a permit for one year. Let him look out for himself, as his customers and victims have to do.

There is no call for squeamish tenderness in such matters. The business is bad, although we think we have to endure it yet awhile. But the liquor sellers have had ample warning, and they know the rules of the game. Let them play in man fashion, or quit.

The good unofficial citizens must throw the weight of their influence on the side of law and order. There ought to be no land, or house, leaseable for a drink shop, wholesale or retail, near a camp or a market. No good citizen ought carelessly to sign a liquor dealer's petition or go on his bond, or permit his representative to do so. Many temperance men in Honolulu are parties to the liquor business today, because some good-natured manager of their property has signed a license petition.

Newspapers that stand for high ideals and clean politics, ought to decline to sell space for liquor advertisements. It used to be thought that publishers had no right so to decline, but there is no longer any question about that. The huge black-letter advertisements of beer and whiskey, that disgrace even our best papers, are not especially expected to produce sales directly. The men in these islands who buy such goods know what they want and where to get it. Nobody buys beer because he sees a page panegyric about it in big type. Such advertising is simply useful, and wholly intended, for publicity, to keep the young and the ignorant familiar with the subject, immune to new truth about it, and in the line of future exploitation.

And finally, it would be a great help to a cause that needs assistance; and would pay big dividends on the investment of personal influence, if alcoholic beverages were to become conspicuous by their absence from the clubs where the most cultured and prosperous citizens are in control, and from the private hospitality of men of commanding position. The destruction of the weak comes not a little from the poor creatures trying to imitate the strong.
